PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

From Wayne Muth

To all SNGMS Members:

As you all know it is winding down for me as your President. I have enjoyed the experience, and want to thank everyone that helped through the last two years. Last night the new Board Members were elected, and I believe much will be achieved in coming next year. I will still be on the Board, I will help with the transition.

A couple of updates, the shop has the new 16" saw and it is being used. If you are working at the shop, try to use this saw, as we have a year warranty on it, and though I don't expect problems, this is the time to find out. We also have some new wheels coming for the shops Cab Kings, as we anticipate an increase in people using the shop after they return from Quartzsite.

As mentioned at the meetings, we are down on revenue at the shop, so please come down cut rocks, cabbing, and such. Also be sure to register for the Annual Awards Banquet. We will be cutting it off on December 5th so as we know what to provide for food and seating.

Again thank you for all your support.

Wayne Muth
President SNGMS

Field Trips

November 18th : Please remember this is NOT A FIELD TRIP. We are taking a trip to the Tempiute mine outside Rachel, NV. Cliff Jackson has advised that the road is washed out, and if we get 5 or 6 people we may be able to fill it in. If we have more that is fine.

We will meet at 8:00 am at the Love Gas Station, at 8:30 am then off to the site. We are not sure what we are going to find, as there could be more of the road washed out areas as we go up.

Shovels and picks should be brought. Also pack water and food, 4 wheel drive and or high clearance vehicles will be needed.

Spring Jamboree May 5-6, 2018 Our mascot has been named "Ed" after our long-time member , friend and mentor Ed Rupprecht. Ed passed away on the first day of our Boulder City Spring Jamboree, May 2, 2015.

Hello Fellow Rockhounds - We have a Facebook page!

To find us - look for Southern Nevada Gem & Mineral Society. Follow us for events and to see the latest goings on at the shop and upcoming classes!

Every year, the American Federation of Mineral Societies honors an Adult member or couple and a Youth member from every club within the Federation with the ACROY Award (AFMS Club Rockhound Of the Year).

And the winners for SNGMS are.....

Jayda Sumner and Mary Beth Paladino!

Jayda is a freshman in High School and has been a active member of the Kid's Club / Rockstars since her family first joined the club. Jayda's knowledge of rocks and geology is quite impressive. She is always friendly and willing to help and the younger children look up to her as a leader. One of her interests is in the uses of rocks by indigenous people. Also, she is proficient at polishing stones and making jewelry out of the cabochons she has polished.

Mary Beth has been the guiding force behind the SNGMS Kid's Club / Rockstars. She holds monthly meeting with the kids and always has interesting projects for them to work on. She arranges presentations and field trips for them to expand their appreciation of rock collecting. Beyond the club, she provides interesting presentations for local schools and help scout troops earn their merit badges in rock related areas. Mary Beth gives freely of her time and money to prepare projects, handouts and samples needed to make each event a success. Her efforts have a positive impact on the youth groups with which she interacts. She is an asset to SNGMS!

Please join me in congratulating Jayda and Mary Beth!

Sheri Johnson, RMFMS ACROY Chair.

Shop Talk (Back by popular demand this article is republished from September & October's 2016 Polished Slabs)

How to stabilize your slabs and cabs, by Peggy Sue and Bill Moore

When we first started making cabochons, we, like everyone else, were frustrated with material that was too soft or unstable to hold together.

We first tried Opticon. We bought a little toaster oven to process slabs and cabochons, but were not happy with the results as it never hardened to our satisfaction.

The best advice we received came from our friends in Kingman, AZ, who were into working with turquoise. We followed their advice and have worked out how to get the most out of our efforts.

Here is how it works:

Buy 330 Epoxy. It comes in a 1 oz. box or in two 8 oz. bottles. (see picture)

Shop Talk How to stabilize your slabs and cabs, by Peggy Sue and Bill Moore

Use all of the two ½ oz. tubes, or equivalent from the larger bottles, by mixing it in a wide mouth glass with something like a popsicle stick.

Add approximately 1 cup of acetone. Mix this together until fully blended.

Put in your cabochons and/or slabs, making sure that your material is covered by the liquid.

Cover the jar tightly with the lid and put it into a refrigerator for 1 week. Each day I pick it up and slosh everything around to make sure that the mix is getting everywhere on the slabs and cabochons. The reason you keep it in the refrigerator is to retard the hardening process and allow the epoxy to penetrate into the material.

When you take it out at the end of the week, place the items on a cookie cooling rack or a classifier and let dry for a day in the sun. You can now add a second batch of slabs and cabs to your jar of left over liquid. I usually run batches in the same liquid until I don't think it is working any more, at which time I put in more epoxy mix.

I have had great success with this process but remember, some material is just too crumbly to work with, no matter what you do.

See Del at Desert Art Supplies for the epoxy, as he carries the larger bottles.

I'd like to add a couple of things to the above great article. First when drying the stones I transfer the liquid to another bottle, I empty the turquoise into an aluminum pie plate lined with baking parchment paper. The stabilized turquoise doesn't stick to the paper as it dries. And like Peggy Sue mentioned, I place the pie plate out in the sun, occasionally stirring the stones until dry. No sticky mess.

I've tried another epoxy (ArtResin) and have had very good success using the same stabilizing techniques. I do thin the solution a little more and go two weeks in the refrigerator. I'm able to get four to five stabilized batches out of the same mixture before it gels. The one thing I did notice is that the Epoxy 330 Part B Hardener has a darker amber color whereas the ArtResin's is clear. (Del Walkenshaw)
